Customer-Focused Selling™ (CFS)

Improve the skills of your team with targeted training.

CFS training uses real-world examples to examine these critical aspects of selling:

- Open – build trust and credibility
- Investigate – identify the motivating buying factor
- Present – apply judgment & offer solutions
- Confirm – gain agreement
- Position – Build long-term relationships

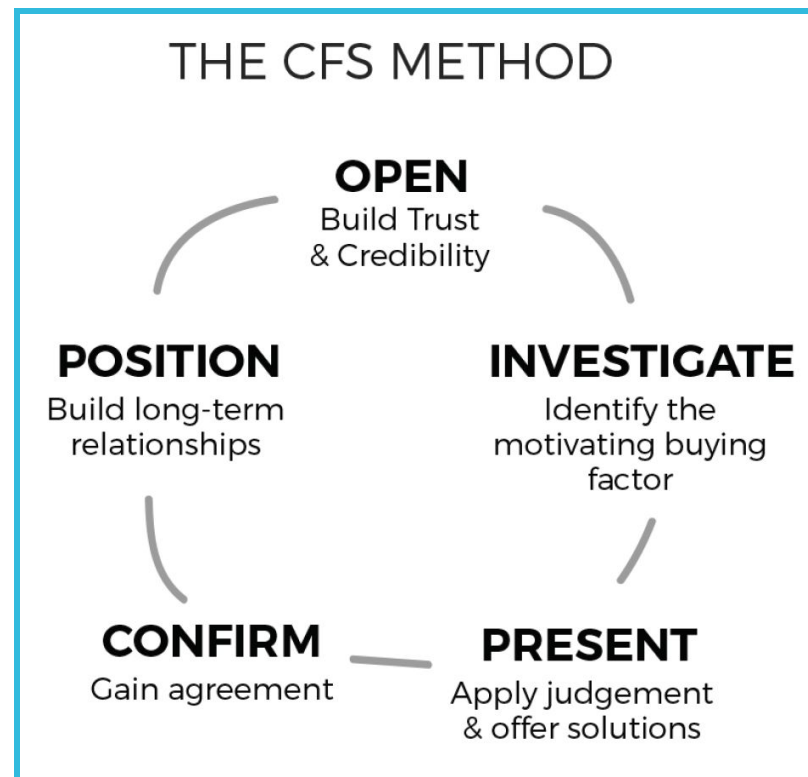

Your Sales Skills analysis will be able to give you a solid understanding of where your team stands — and where they need to go as well. In Customer-Focused™ (CFS), team members will gain the specific knowledge they need to consistently achieve better sales results.

This is not your typical "sales seminar." This seminar is formatted in an adult learning environment that is highly interactive, in which CFS provides all the core competencies needed for effective consultative selling—with a special emphasis on the particular areas shown by the Sales Skills analysis to need improvement.

CFS training is uniquely designed to be used every day, not memorized. For every skill taught, there is an immediate application to real-world business situations the participants are facing. They are able to see the applicability for themselves, and come away from the program enthusiastic. Your team will be 100% prepared to put the new learning into action with their own customers and prospects.

Scientifically validated assessments make the foundation of our system, which allow you to measure the behavioral and cognitive attributes of candidates and employees. Assessments are the best predictors of workplace performance. We provide a software as a service platform (SAAS) that allows organizations to easily define behavioral and cognitive requirements of a job, assess candidates and employees, compare results, and run analytics on groups and teams. We pride ourselves on knowledge transfer in that we partner you with a PI Certified Partner who is a workplace behavioral expert and is there to help you every step of the way.
